

East African Safari

Yes, I'm off again on safari to East Africa, and will be away for just over one month.

Traveling dates are from the 6th April through to the 8th May 2010.

Due to my schedule and shooting locations, I will not be contactable until my return.

I will be traveling and photographing through Tanzania, then to Egypt to see one of the great ancient wonders of the world – the Pyramids.

Just love Africa!!

Be sure to check back here for new images on my return from Africa.
